In high school I worked for a home town ice cream shop. Knowing that I was going to go into web development the owner has always wanted me to make her a website. So for my final project I am planning on making a website for Sundaes Ice Cream Shop and surprising her with the website.

So for the site I plan on having a main (index) page, ice cream cake page, ice cream menu, a food menu, and a contact and map page. All menu options will also list what is in them.

I plan on using a very 90's style to match the shop, so I plan on a color scheme of mostly red and black.
